

ECHOES and REFLECTIONS

Leaders in Holocaust Education

SUPPORTING TEACHERS' FUTURE SUCCESS -

The Echoes and Reflections program and classroom-ready content helps prepare future teachers, student teachers, and current teachers studying to advance their career with the historical background, primary and secondary resources, and teaching methodology to effectively teach about the Holocaust.

Why Teach about the Holocaust?

Teaching about the Holocaust using Echoes and Reflections helps students make connections with the past, gain relevant insight into human dilemmas and difficult social challenges, and determine their roles and responsibilities in the world around them. -

Why Use Echoes and Reflections?

It's relevant

Individual stories and visual history testimonies from survivors, liberators, and other witnesses of the Holocaust help students examine contemporary social issues related to fairness and justice.

It demonstrates effective teaching

Echoes and Reflections professional development explores and models quality lesson plans, sound pedagogy, and best practices for teaching about the Holocaust.

It's up-to-date

Teacher-friendly materials address academic standards and incorporate a mix of instructional strategies and technologies for use in 21st century classrooms.

It's resource-intensive

Maps, photographs, diary entries, and video testimony from Holocaust survivors and other witnesses are aligned with modular, interdisciplinary lessons. All program participants receive a copy of the comprehensive Teacher's Resource Guide to use in future teaching.
